Before You Go...

Thank you for being part of my newsletter community. It means so much to me that you're here and that this music has found its way to you.

One of my favorite things about the newsletter is the chance it gives me to share uplifting messages, behind-the-scenes moments from my music, and occasionally a free download like this one.

If you have a friend who might enjoy messages of faith, music, and encouragement, feel free to share the newsletter with them and invite them to join us. I'd love to connect with them too.

You can invite a friend to join at HilaryWeeks.com/newsletter

Something New You Might Love

I've recently created something called the Good for the Soul Gathering Kits.

It's designed to help you enjoy a quiet moment of creativity or you can bring a few people together—friends, family, or neighbors—for a simple evening of connection, inspiration and uplifting conversation. Each kit includes everything you need for a meaningful experience.

If that sounds like something that would bless you or your circle, you can learn more at HilaryWeeks.com.

P.S. I love sharing little surprises with newsletter friends throughout the year—music, downloads, and new ideas I'm working on. I'm so glad you're here.
